

Private Client

Helping you plan for the future

Big skies. Big thinking.

What we can do for you

It's so important to get your affairs in order

The Private Client team at Roythornes provides a broad service to a wide range of clients.

We pride ourselves in providing a personal, tailored service recognising that every family has its own dynamic character, and that it's unacceptable for people to be 'pigeon-holed' into a standard solution.

We take great satisfaction in reaching solutions for each client whether this is in the provision of a straightforward will, helping those suffering the onset of incapacity, supporting those who find themselves bereaved or without anyone else to turn to, or handling the complex tax affairs of a family-run estate.

We provide this support through the good times, as well as when economic and personal events colour our worlds.

We are on your side, and whenever we can, even in the most difficult of circumstances, we will look to find the most effective and economical solution. We work collaboratively with our fellow professionals and know you will like our approachable style.

Genuine solutions for a wide range of situations

Our team is made up of lawyers with huge collective experience and a determination to provide the best possible outcome for you and your family.

Roythornes has been helping individuals for over 80 years and during that time our reputation for cutting edge advice is far reaching, as is our client base. Many of the families we act for have been instructing us for several generations and appreciate our pragmatic approach.

We act for land owners and large agricultural estates, who often need specialist advice on complex arrangements drawn up many years ago and who are looking to protect the interests of future generations.

At the same time we provide business owners across all sectors with advice on issues which affect not only their individual circumstances, but also those of the business they own and those they own it with.

Of course not everyone is a business or land owner, and we take as much care advising individuals on how to best manage their assets and ensure that when they may not be there to do so, those they care for are looked after.

We also know that family structures these days can be far from straightforward, and this brings its own challenges but by working with such a wide range of clients, we can assure that we will know how to help you in your individual circumstances.

Much of what we do requires an in-depth understanding of increasingly complex tax legislation, and this expertise is what really sets us apart from our competitors; our lawyers offer their tax, commercial and legal experience to every client.

Our people make the difference

We have a large and growing team, made up of a range of lawyers with different specialist knowledge who work together to provide a significant depth of understanding.

We take a practical approach with our dedicated team advising on a wide range of issues our clients face, from traditional capital tax planning to fulfilment of philanthropic ambition. Working with some of the country's best agricultural lawyers means we are well placed to provide detailed and technical advice on especially complex issues facing farming families.

A testament to the work we do is the increasing number of families instructing us for the first time, who are recommended to us for the in-depth service we can offer.

As a member of the Law Society's Wills & Inheritance Quality Scheme (WIQS) we have committed to providing an outstanding service to our clients, offering practical advice in plain English.

Many of our team members are home grown and local to our region; others have been attracted to the opportunities Roythornes can offer. All our staff, and in turn our clients, benefit from our award-winning, continual training and development programme. The team is well equipped to support our clients with high quality legal, commercial, sensible, proactive advice across all sectors. The advantage gained by having a full spectrum of lawyers, from trainees and juniors perfecting their craft to our senior lawyers operating at the cutting edge of legal solutions and advice, is infinite. We will match the required level of expertise and personality to your needs.
